President's Corner

Hello Corvette Enthusiasts.....

We are all hoping that Halloween will be a bit more fun for our young Ghouls and Goblins.

This year several members attended the Long Beach Grand Prix and had an amazing time. Thursday evening, September 23rd, we were invited to the Annual West of the NCM "Meet and Greet". The Corvette Racing Team was in attendance signing Corvette posters, as well as Laura Klauser, the new Corvette Racing Team Program Manager. A very special thank you to Leslie Gardner, Past Chairman of the NCM, and Neil Watanabe, NCM Board Member, for putting on this fantastic event. Friday was a full day at the Corvette Corral meeting with the Corvette Race Team (Tommy Milner, Jordan Taylor, Nick Tandy and Antonio Garcia) and experiencing multiple technical presentations. Saturday was another informative day at the Corvette Corral and the great IMSA race!

Everyone should consider attending the LBGP being held April 8th thru 10th 2022...it is an amazing experience.

Please remain vigilant and stay safe and healthy

NATIONAL CORVETTE MUSEUM (NCM) REPORT

Sharon Brawner
President and CEO of the National Corvette Museum

NCM Search Committee Chair Kai Spande said of the process to find Brawner, "We teamed with a firm specializing in not-for-profit organizations to conduct a thorough, nationwide search to find the best possible candidates. There were many, but Sharon Brawner was the clear choice. Not only does Sharon have extensive experience leading one of the most successful museums in the world, but she's also a true car buff who was born and raised in Kentucky. We're looking forward to a bright future with Sharon in the driver's seat."

The Museum continues with Raffling a 2022 Corvette. Tickets available online. Many NEW Activities on tap for the new Year...coming soon...

Now get out there and DRIVE your Corvettes,

GUIDE DOGS FOR THE BLIND (GDB) REPORT

Hello Everyone,

Sam and I recently visited the Sam Simon Foundation in Malibu to visit Lyric. This school is for the hearing impaired. Lyric was a Guide Dog Puppy we raised, but was career changed due to some relieving issues that wouldn't be easy for a visually impaired person. GDB saw great potential in her and chose to give her to another organization. Lyric was so excited to see us after a year (yes they do remember us) since we had sent her back to GDB for their formal training. The trainers love her and say she is doing great with this different type of training. We got to spend time with the trainers and watch her learn about alerting the handler for various sounds like doorbell, phone, calling out for someone. They already have a match for her and she will be kept very busy as the person is a psychologist, pilot, and author.

Malta has been Career Changed due to some behavioral issues during formal training and now is very happy to be just a silly dog with our co-raisers as their pet. Jack has shown improvement in his training since doing some new & different training methods due to COVID restraints. He is assigned to go back on the GDB Puppy Truck for his formal training on October 23rd.. We are wishing him much success! Cam was diagnosed with an eye disease called Stargardt, but we are still training as we are waiting to hear if he will go on to become a K9 Buddy (GDB) or with another service dog organization or Career Changed to become a family pet.

Take Care and Have A Tail Waggin Day!

This is the first non-camouflaged image of the 600-plus-hp Corvette Z06, which will use a 5.5-liter V-8 and be revealed on October 26.

Chevrolet will debut the new C8 Corvette Z06 on October 26th, and we've heard the new high-Performance variant testing numerous times. But all of those cars have been heavily camouflaged. Now the company has shared the first image of the new Z06 free of anything hiding its differences compared to the C8 Stingray.

The new Z06 will be powered by a naturally 5.5-liter flat-plane-crank V-8 that should rev to between 8500 and 9000 rpm, make over 600 horsepower, and use an eight speed dual-clutch automatic transmission. Our spy photographer spotted Chevy testing the car alongside a Ferrari 458 Italia, which also uses a high-revving flat-plane V-8, so it's obvious what Chevy is going for with this new Corvette variant.

This photo is a standard Z06, which will have less aggressive aerodynamic elements than the available track-focused Z07 Performance package. The Z07 Performance package should include things such as a more aggressive front splinter, larger wing, stiffer suspension, carbon Ceramic brakes, and carbon-fiber wheels wrapped in Michelin Pilot Sport Cup 2 R tires.

Happy Birthday to You!
